Private Cemeteries on Private land: (5)

Permission is required from landowners to visit private cemeteries

Josselyn Cemetery: Go west on Route 4 to Bridgewater Corners 1.5 miles, turn left onto Route 100A, go approximately 500 feet. The cemetery is on a knoll behind the Mennonite Church and located to the left of Putnam's property. Contains 18 gravestones.

Martin Cemetery: Go west on Route 4 to Bridgewater Corners 1.6 miles, turn right onto Bridgewater Center Rd. Go 2.3 miles, turn right onto Chateauguay Rd approximately 5.2 miles to Walker hill Road on your left. Contains 3 gravestones.

Pratt Cemetery: Go west on Route 4 to Bridgewater Corners 1.6 miles, turn right onto Bridgewater Center Road 1.7 miles. Cemetery is on the right located by Cowdry brook behind where Lawrence Hickory's house was. The old road has become washed out and overgrown. Unknown number of gravestones.

White (Sylvanus) Cemetery: Go west on Route 4 through Bridgewater Corners 4.7 miles. Turn right onto Bridgewater Hill Road for 1.6 miles, turn left onto Old Bridgewater Hill Rd. Halfway between the first house on the left (Heinemann) and the second house (Standish) look for a red-painted steel rod marking the property boarder between Heinemann and the Bridge properties. Across the road from that red steel rod is a sloping field in which one can park. Enter woods by the steel red rod. Walk north on a steep hill through the woods, following a stonewall, with a deep canyon to the east (right), staying on the height of the land. About 150 yards up find a downed white birch tree next to a standing large white birch. Sylvanus White stone (died 1813) typical of the era with weeping willow design. A rough second stone is nearby, surrounded by the roots of the White Birch.

Woodward Cemetery: Go west on Route 4 approximately 400 feet, turn right onto Gold Coast Rd 1.6 miles continuing around a sharp corner to the right approximately 50 feet. The cemetery is on the right over the stonewall containing only small fieldstones for grave markers. At the present time there is a wooden bench on the hilltop to the left of the cemetery. It is unknown how many people are buried here.
